

Homelessness...

Is not ungodliness, it's just a weakness in day-to-day finances.

Homelessness...

Needs people with a willingness to fulfill happiness; kindness should be everyone's interest.

Homelessness...

Should not be interpreted as hopelessness; sadness and grief are brief only if you are fearless, but it's endless if you are careless.

Homelessness...

Could be the start of something new for you, like break-up to make-up, only this time on more solid ground... achieving a crown, not necessarily one you wear on your head, but one that will steer you through life's journey securely.

Homelessness...

Should not be considered a catastrophe, but instead a philosophy wherein you pause for a better cause.

Homelessness...

Creates tears during the lonesome nights, but joy cometh in the morning light, and you are guaranteed to sit tight, from then on you will always be right.
